A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on April 15, 2002 (27 MoReg 618–620). Those sections with changes are reprinted here. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The department received twelve (12) comments on the proposed amendment. Extensive comments were received and modifications made on these same amendments during the development of internal Department Operating Regulations prior to publishing this rule amendment.

COMMENT: One person commenting on subsection (1)(B) objected to the language “or otherwise creating undue anxiety” since they felt the phrase was so vague and indefinite as to not reasonably inform a provider with what the standard of conduct required by the department was, since many consumers are frequently anxious without outside influence.

RESPONSE: The first sentence in the Class II neglect definition specifies that it is the failure of an employee to provide reasonable and necessary services. Any reasonable or necessary treatment creating anxiety would thus not be considered undue. The second sentence states that this anxiety must be caused by action or behavior, so the consumer’s mental status without such would not be relevant. The department feels consumers are often vulnerable and subject to control and harm by negligent actions or behavior by their caregivers and for that reason feel that this addition is important, yet it is not the intent to hold employees accountable for a consumer’s psychiatric variations in symptoms. Therefore, the department has not revised the amendment as requested.

COMMENT: One person voiced support for the amendment of class II neglect in subsection (1)(B) adding the component of “psychological abuse” and recommended that another section be added to address intentional actions to differentiate those malicious acts.

RESPONSE: The department feels intent is a subjective and the outcome is the concern, and has not revised the amendment as requested.

COMMENT: One person commenting on subsection (1)(C) suggested that “directly” be inserted after the word “services” in the definition of consumer to make clear that it does not cover persons who incidentally receive services from a program or facility contracted, licensed, certified or funded by the department. Otherwise, businesses that contract with the department offering services to others who are not department consumers through related subsidiaries would be covered by this amendment.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Although there is no intention to investigate all situations regarding nondepartment funded consumers, there are incidents which the department needs the discretion to explore the impact upon department consumers where department consumers are also receiving services in the same licensed certified or department funded program or facility where the incident occurred. The department has no intention of investigating incidents at subsidiaries that do not serve department consumers. Therefore, the department agrees and has revised the subsection accordingly.

COMMENT: One person suggested that in subsection (1)(F), the term sexual manner be defined or eliminated because the term is so vague and indefinite as to not reasonably inform a provider of what conduct is required of it.

RESPONSE: Sexual manner was added since the old definition of sexual purpose was defined, however arousal or gratification is subjective regarding the feelings of the alleged perpetrator. There are specific actions listed as examples that are in context when specified that they are for sexual purpose or in a sexual manner. The department will utilize the standard of what is reasonable to a lay person as this cannot be defined in a finite manner for any specific time period. Context and relation are important dependent on each unique situation. Therefore, the department has not revised the amendment as requested.

COMMENT: One person was concerned regarding the addition of kissing in the definition of sexual abuse in (1)(F) commenting that they serve people who have a lifelong habit of kissing people they are fond of and wondered if there was a distinction between kissing in a friendly way and kissing for the arousing of people’s sexual desires.

RESPONSE: The definition makes this distinction that it be for sexual purpose or in a sexual manner. The department recommends clear limitations be placed in policy regarding the appropriate settings and circumstances for this behavior, such as kissing on the cheek from a foster parent to a foster child. Regardless of whether an activity meets this definition of sexual abuse, these distinctions should be made to ensure professional behavior on the part of paid professional staff. Therefore, the department has not revised the amendment as requested.

COMMENT: One person believed the wording in paragraph (1)(F)5. was vague or confusing. They felt that failing to intervene in an attempt to stop sexual activity between consumers does not take into account whether they have guardians or are acting as consenting adults. There was also a question whether to stop those with venereal diseases and maintain the confidentiality of the diagnosis.

RESPONSE: The term in the definition “inappropriate” addresses the type of sexual activity to stop. Inappropriate must be determined by the treatment team on an individual basis considering many factors. The definition gives discretion to stop this activity, not appropriate activity in licensed facilities consistent with Department of Health and Senior Services regulations. Therefore, the department has not revised the amendment as requested.

COMMENT: Two (2) persons questioned section (3) on the immediate reporting issue regarding the requirements of the type of allegations or suspicions to be reported to law enforcement. One feels it should be reported when the transgression warrants, but until the investigation is over this cannot be determined. They felt there should be some flexibility in the area and investigators and the agency should collaborate in making the decision. The other was not sure providers would be able to tell when something was a criminal charge and suggested referring to the physical-injury provisions of section 630.168, RSMo.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: The majority of these requirements are required by statute. The department asserts those items listed should be reported as law enforcement will determine the feasibility of criminal issues and will investigate the likelihood; and one should err on the side of protection of the consumer. To determine those items which may result in a criminal charge, the department recommends that agency personnel meet with local law enforcement to discuss incidents that are appropriate to report. The department agrees with the reference to the physical-injury provisions of section 630.168, RSMo and has revised the section accordingly. It was recognized that subsection (3)(B) stating "Abuse or neglect which results in physical injury" should not be removed since this is a statutory requirement and it is felt that this statutory language should be present in the rule for common recognition. Therefore, the department has revised subsection (3)(B) of the proposed amendment as follows. The language that the department proposed to delete in subsection (3)(B) is restored. The language that the department proposed to add to subsection (3)(B) is retained but moved to a new subsection (3)(C).

COMMENT: One person wondered if in subsection (3)(B) whether they would need to report class II neglect to law enforcement when it involved "psychological abuse."

RESPONSE: Typically these would not result in a criminal charge, however in some instances they could such as harassment or stalking. If someone feels it may result in a criminal charge, it should be reported. The department has not revised the amendment in response to this comment.

COMMENT: One person felt that the amendment in section (12) was confusing regarding the mention of two (2) counts of class II neglect or one (1) count of class II neglect and one (1) count of verbal abuse qualifying an individual for placement on the Disqualification Registry. They stated that there are two (2) different qualifiers for class II neglect.

RESPONSE: That is correct. The intention is that there are two qualifiers that involve class II neglect. Previously if a person had one (1) count of verbal abuse and one (1) count of class II neglect in twelve (12) months, they would not be eligible for the Registry, now they will. The department has not revised the amendment in response to this comment.

COMMENT: One person suggested that section (12) be clarified regarding the substantiation of class II neglect and verbal abuse—when the clock starts and ends on the twelve (12)-month period.

RESPONSE: The department believes the section is clear as it specifies if the employee perpetrated this within twelve (12) months, thus the act of perpetration would be the date of the incident or action. The department has not revised the amendment in response to this comment.

COMMENT AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: The department will add an additional section to be known as (14). This is added since it is statutory language the department feels should be repeated here for common recognition.

COMMENT: One person's overall comment was that the deadlines for decisions should be lengthened.

RESPONSE: The deadlines were lengthened in the amendment by changing from calendar days to working days. Therefore, the department has not revised the amendment further as requested.

Title 10—DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES Division 40—Land Reclamation Commission Chapter 10—Permit and Performance Requirements for Industrial Mineral Open Pit and In-Stream Sand and Gravel Operations

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Land Reclamation Commission under sections 444.530, RSMo 2000 and 444.767, RSMo Supp. 2001, the commission amends a rule as follows:

10 CSR 40-10.020 Permit Application Requirements is amended.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on April 15, 2002 (27 MoReg 626-630). No changes have been made to the text of the proposed amendment, so it is not reprinted here. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Missouri Land Reclamation Commission received comments on this proposed amendment from Cindy Peterson, Vice President of Petersen Gravel and Ready Mix, Inc. and Tracy Landing. The comments focused on inequity of the amount of the fee increase, the need to track the amount of revenue generated by the new fees and the expenditures of the program in administering the law, the need for additional justification for the amounts of the increased fees, the need for the Department of Natural Resources to plan better in order to avoid sharp increases in fees, and the stress the new fees place upon small businesses. The public comment period ended on June 14, 2002. A public hearing was held on this proposed amendment on May 23, 2002 and there were no public comments received.

COMMENT: Cindy Petersen, Vice President of Petersen Gravel & Ready Mix, Inc. stated that the three hundred dollars ($300) site fee in an increase of six hundred fifty percent (650%) or if the site is used less than six (6) months during a permit year, one hundred dollars ($150) or a two hundred seventy-five percent (275%) increase from the present fee structure. This business may operate on more than fifteen (15) sites per year and obtain less tonnage than another competitor operator who can obtain more tonnage from fewer sites. RESPONSE: Effective August 28, 2001, House Bill 453 amended section 444.772.4 RSMo to allow for up to three hundred dollars ($300) for each site to be required by the commission. This fee may be lowered by fifty percent (50%) if the site is operated for less than six (6) months out of the permit year. One of the main costs to the program is born by the field inspection of these sites. While the cost of the program is relatively close to inspect one (1) medium sized mining site as it is for one (1) small mining site, the cost of inspecting multiple small sites is far greater than they are a medium or large site. The legislature made a provision to ease the economic hardship to the permit applicant upon how long the site is operated throughout the year.

COMMENT: Cindy Petersen, Vice President of Petersen Gravel & Ready Mix, Inc. stated they were informed by the staff that the minimum "site size" is to be an acre and that they would be paying for "minimum acreage" as well.

RESPONSE: The interpretation made by the department on this comment is that Cindy Petersen, Vice President of Petersen Gravel & Ready Mix, Inc. assumes that each site will be permitted for at least one (1) acre and that the annual acreage fee of five dollars ($5) per acre will be assessed at each site. The department's Land Reclamation Program has issued permits in the past based upon fraction of acres on individual sites and there are no plans to change this practice in the future. A site that is permitted for a fractional acreage would be charged a proportional acreage fee.

COMMENT: Cindy Petersen, Vice President of Petersen Gravel & Ready Mix, Inc. commented that these proposed fee increases would be passed on to private and public consumers at a time of economic distress within our state and during a state highway construction crisis.

RESPONSE: The department's Land Reclamation Program has not increased its permit application fees since 1990. The income from these fees is intended to operate the program independently, but for the past ten (10) years has failed to do so. With the increased requirements of public hearings under the amended legislation that was passed in 1989 and effective in 1990, the department has needed to raise the fees to a level that will allow the program to sustain itself. The newest change to the legislation in 2001 expands the opportunity for the public to request meetings and hearings. From fiscal year 1993 to 2001 the department has provided five hundred twenty-six thousand one hundred seventy-one dollars ($526,171) in general revenue to the Land Reclamation Program in order to meet the needs of administering this law. In fiscal year 2002 there was no general revenue monies available to assist the Land Reclamation Program with meeting their obligation under this law due to the current economic situation in the state. There are no general revenue funds predicted to be available for the next fiscal year, at least. Without this fee increase it is expected that the program will run out of money sometime shortly before July 2003.

COMMENT: Tracy Landing commented that the increases to the fees are between 1.6 and 2.4 times greater than current fees. Overall the fee increase proposed are almost double of that which are currently in place. The fee increases are excessive. The proposed rule change could easily impact any one organization in several areas. For example, an organization may perform several types of industrial minerals mining operations and hold multiple permits, thereby impacting several of their operational and budget areas. Not only do you need to consider the proposed fee increase, you must also consider the additional financial responsibility imposed by the bond requirements of 10 CSR 40-10.030. Bonding, for these same companies, as well as the expense of making public notice and providing maps of the mining property and the surroundings, etc. all have costs involved in doing business. Those costs are rising as the market dictates as well, however, at a more predictable level. The department must ensure that mining companies, especially small and medium sized ones, pay fair and equitable fees now and in the future. I realize there must be adequate funding while at the same time ensure excess collections are not being taken. Tracy Landing recommends to change the proposed rule to make a graduated increase over several years in order to be more consistent with economic conditions and to establish a mechanism to allow overpayments to be returned through lower fees in the next reporting year and strive to run an efficient reporting and compliance program.

RESPONSE: The department's Land Reclamation Program began to discuss and negotiate proposed fee increases with the industry in 1999. With industry support the legislation was amended in 2001 and these fees are proposed in 2002. Several years have been invested in the effort and the time taken has made these increases critical. The program has projected that the proposed fees would provide the department with approximately three hundred forty-four thousand and four hundred ninety-one dollars ($344,491) per year. The current cost of doing business for the Land Reclamation Program was two hundred eighty-eight thousand three hundred twenty-one dollars ($288,321) for fiscal year 2001. It is expected that the total expenditures for fiscal year 2002 will be at three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000). The current balance in the fund to operate this program is at approximately one hundred seven thousand dollars ($107,000). A minimum of two (2) years is required to change a state statute and followed by an additional year to change the required rule. There is currently less than six (6) months balance in the fund to pay program activities. It is projected that the expenses will exceed the income generated by these fees by fiscal year 2007. The balance in the fund would start to decline sharply at that time. However, there is no more than a balance of one hundred sixty-three thousand dollars ($163,000) anticipated for this fund at any time before fiscal year 2007. Graduating the fees over a number of years would deplete this balance. There are no statutory provisions for returning any funds collected in excess of expenses, however the program must report annually its income and expense information.

COMMENT: Tracy Landing commented that currently the fee expiration is December 31, 2007, that this time frame is too long and recommends that the department revisit the expiration sooner, i.e., every two (2) or three (3) years to be able to mitigate increases based upon environmental changes.

RESPONSE: The department's Land Reclamation Program is required by statute to set the funding mechanism to allow the department to recover the cost of administering and enforcing the regulatory program. The law also sets up a mechanism of yearly reporting to the commission and public to account for the number of employees and activities performed the previous calendar year to administer and enforce the law. This fee structure will expire at the end of calendar year 2007 which means that new legislation will be needed in order to provide a funding mechanism to the Land Reclamation Program. Since it normally requires a minimum of two (2) full years to develop and pass new legislation a decision will need to be made before the end of calendar year 2005 on what form of funding will be needed to administer the program, which is only three (3) years away.

COMMENT: Tracy Landing commented that under HB 453 it indicated that the permit and renewal fees shall be established by rule and shall be set at levels that recover the cost of administering and enforcing sections 444.760 to 444.790, making allowances for grants and other sources of funds. The director shall submit a report to the commission and the public each year that describes the number of employees and the activities performed during the previous calendar year to administer sections 444.760 to 444.790. The fiscal note provided indicated the private entity costs, however, it does not mention detail on specific administration costs that correlate with the fees. Since the state has reduced the number of jobs and the number of permits is moderate and stable, there is no information to support the use of increased funds. Tracy Landing recommends that the department provide additional documentation to tie back the costs and serve as true justification of the need to increase the fees so dramatically. RESPONSE: The department's Land Reclamation Program has provided specific information outlining the department's cost in administering this program and the income generated from fees and other sources at the public meeting that was held on May 23, 2002. All companies who held valid permits to operate a surface mine were sent notifications of the date, time and location of this hearing well in advance. To summarize, the following charts represent the history and forecasts of income versus expenditures without and with the new fees:

The department's industrial minerals fund balance is projected to run out of funds sometime near July 2003 without the increase in fees. The proposed fee increase will provide a viable program until 2007 which is when the law states that the fees will expire.

COMMENT: Tracy Landing commented that the current fees in place were imposed effective August 28, 2001 and it has been less than one (1) year since the fees were changed. Proper forecasting and analysis should have provided a need for the increase at that time. This proposed rule indicates poor planning on the part of the department. The burden should not be solely placed on the mining companies. Tracy Landing further commented that the department should pay considerable attention to trends and seek additional guidance if necessary to reduce or eliminate the need to make modifications so often.

RESPONSE: In 1999 the department held six (6) public meetings at the regional offices to discuss this and other planned changes to the rules. These meetings were publicized to all permit holders and were attended by various individuals. At those meetings there were opinions expressed that the current fee system is unfair and needed to be changed. Over the next two (2) years the department worked with industry and the legislature to develop a system of permit fees that would be fairer to the applicants. After several open legislative hearings House Bill 453 was developed. The Missouri Limestone Producers Association and Mining Industry Council of Missouri as well as several individual mining company representatives were involved in the development of HB 453. These groups and individuals have accepted the fact that this proposed rulemaking is necessary to continue this state program. House Bill 453 was passed in 2001 and requires that "Permit and renewal fees shall be established by rule....", see section 444.772.4, RSMo Supp. 2001. The only fees that are currently in effect are those that were adopted in 1994 following statutory changes that occurred in 1990. The fees have not changed since that time and this rule amendment is the only effort that has been undertaken to change those fees by rule since 1994.
